Dial Phone

(Continued from Page One) telephone company by Eschrich Bros., Inc., is scheduled for completion late this year. At that time, the company plans to start installation work on a large new unit of dial switching equipment depending, of course, on the availability of vitally needed materials in the overall national control program.

Manager Smith said the structure will be two stories high, measure 103 by 62 feet, and built of steel frame and masonry fire resistive construction. The building will front on Cravens avenue on a lot measuring 140 by 137 feet.

Following his stint with the shovel, Mayor Haggard said: "This is a red letter day for the community, for it heralds an event destined to take an important place in the chronicle of Torrance's progress and in the annals of its telephone history."

District Telephone Manager Snyder cited the start of construction work on the new dial center as a sign of Pacific Telephone's "strong faith and confidence in the future of the city."

"Walking along that highway is a menace to the safety of our children," he said. Another member of the group, Mrs. Harold Bilson, of 3112 W. 186th St., told the Board how her son was

State Highway Commission Hears Plea

A Torrance delegation of three men went before the State Highway Commission at Sacramento last Thursday, Feb. 15 asking for the widening and improving of 174th St. and for a traffic control signal at the corner of Roberts Road and Pacific Coast Highway.

Offering no immediate solution, the Board said that they would have a survey made of the school district's transportation problems.

The Board members also suggested that the group petition the city to grade the shoulders of the streets for the children to walk on, and said that they would investigate having the city's own buses being rerouted and rescheduled to take these children to and from school.
